The Ten Year Staff Club 1985

The following staff who had served ten years or more with Bushies, were on the payroll as at October 1985, and were members of the "Ten Year Club". The Club was established to recognise, and to record appreciation for long service with the company. A few of these members had served for twenty years or more. When the company ceased operating in April 1988, along with the rest of the staff, many transferred to the payroll of Australian Airlines, and the remainder took redundancy packages
